the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age is expected to increase from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion.

As the world's population grows, the demand for food and other resources will increase. This will put pressure on the environment and on the world's food supply.

One way to meet this demand is to increase the amount of food that is produced. This can be done by using more land for agriculture, by using more water, or by using more fertilizers.

Another way to meet this demand is to reduce the amount of food that is wasted. This can be done by improving the way that food is stored and distributed, or by changing the way that people eat.

There are many other ways to meet this demand, and it is important that we find ways to do so that do not harm the environment or the world's food supply.

Top That

As students enter high school competition begins on the first day. For the freshmen it is a fight that will last through the year. They have to deal with the name title of "Freshman" that only goes away when they have survived the year or become sophomores or when they have popular upper-classmen friends and they seem to become just another student.

One way for a student to become popular is to get involved in clubs and organizations where competition begins again. Some people compete for officers of those clubs or organizations.

For the students who choose the path of sports, they begin a continuous competition. In the beginning of the season they fight to become part of the varsity squad and then continue to carry out that competition in the matches.

One point the Top Hat staff has tried to stress before the publishing of this yearbook was for students to get involved in one of the two paths. We have tried to obtain a variety of faces but again the more active a student is involved the more times he or she will have the opportunity to be in the yearbook.

We have chosen the theme "Top That" because we feel all students compete, whether it is a sport, to be popular, or maybe just to better themselves. We hoped that the year seemed to be a large "game", each student trying to achieve his or her highest abilities of as we might say it, to "Top That" of their fellow classmates.

T Teachers Set Styles

In most schools, new styles and trends plus peculiar ideas are set by the student body. In our school there was a motivator working to boost spirit. It was the teachers. This year the teachers became involved in most of the activities set to be spirit boosters.

Two Teachers battled all spirit week trying to come up with a better costume to impress the students. Mrs. Lundgren and Mrs. Craig made the students look forward to the upcoming days to their wear of the costumes for spirit week.

Mr. Bolinger also came up with a solution to a big problem most teachers face. This problem is the teacher trying to get the students to raise their hands to answer the oral questions given in class. Mr. Bolinger dressed a dummy to look like a student and placed it in the front row. He rigged its hand to a simple pulley system that made its hand raise with the help of Mr. Bolinger. Now he was set to face this difficult problem. He acted as if nothing was different when the students entered and sure enough when the students were stunned by the questions he raised the dummy's hand and he pretended for the dummy to answer the question. He did not use this idea to always pull the class through, but rather to get his students more interested in the class in progress.

STUDENT LIFE

Topping It Off!

Inside the student life section we have tried to catch a view of the wild side of the ordinary student. We feel the ordinary student, throughout the year, keeps himself occupied by attending school functions such as games and dances.

This year, many different styles have emerged. They have ranged from weird clothing to wacky hairstyles. Why? Many parents feel it is a phase and it will pass in time. I believe that the stylist doesn't know why he does it. Is it to attract attention towards themselves or maybe to attract friends?

This year, the student life editor has tried to come up with a way to obtain a wide variety of faces of the many different social groups. You may be smart or goodlooking, but a person that stands out in a crowd is more noticeable.

Homecoming week or "Spirit Week" is a special time at Morton High School. Unlike previous years there was something different about "Spirit Week" this year. Participation from both the students and teachers was overwhelming. There were many who dressed for such days as College Sweat-shirt or Class Color days. Spirit medals were awarded daily.

As incredible as the amount of spirit shown, there was one that stood out among the rest. With her flamboyant costumes, Mrs. Lundgren quickly outshone the rest of the faculty. It was no wonder that she won the "Spirit" award at the pep rally.

All in all, "Spirit Week" was a success and all who participated are to be congratulated.

From the moment that the lights faded in the auditorium to the announcement of the queen during half-time, Morton's reputation for having one of the finest homecoming queen assemblies in the region is truly believable.

Ever since attending her first queen assembly during her freshman year, many girls can remember their aspirations for what they would do if they ever had the chance to be a queen candidate. Among the other qualified adversaries, Kelly Troska had that chance with her winning smile and stunning sense of self-confidence, she went from merely being a candidate to becoming the 1988 Homecoming Queen. Graduation, a time when a young person finally assumes control of his life. Well, not total control- Mom and Pop still have to chip in for college tuition if needed. But that's not the only thing gained through a high school education- the knowledge of knowing that if one had the ability to be strong enough to survive four years of high school, one can accomplish anything one sets his mind to. For high school is more a social experience than a learning one and besides the regular lessons, one learns how to get along with his peer group.

Prom . . . A Time to Remember. Ask any older adult such as a parent, brother, sister, or friend about their Prom and they will probably say that it was the biggest event of their teenage social life. For the seniors, it signals a change of time; the Prom is the last school event besides the graduation ceremonies that they will take part in.

Each year, the Junior class takes over the responsibility of putting on the Prom. Careful attention is paid to having enough for decorating and renting a place to hold the Prom. The class of 1989 hosted the Prom at Wicker Park on May 6, 1988. Many who attended say that they were pleased and could not wait until the next one that will be hosted by the class of 1990.

Morton's Summer Camps

Think about spending an entire summer at the resort of your choice and then think about attending a summer camp where you can increase your future opportunities. It's a choice between fun and knowledge and for the brave, knowledge was more important than having fun last summer. Not to say that going to summer camp is not enjoyable. Just think about all the new experience that you might have and all the new people

Weather Causes Devastation

Everyone knows that in the summer one can expect hot weather but this year, the climate was ridiculous. With temperatures soaring way above the 100 degree mark, one found life easier by just staying inside and avoiding the sun's rays.

As expected, the summer of 1988 was hit with the worst drought in many years. Farmers, especially in the Midwest, watched as their crops dried up. Higher fruit and vegetable prices were a direct result of this predicament.

Some of the camps that were sponsored by Morton this summer were Journalism and football along with other extracurricular activities that require training. The annual Boys and Girls State which focuses on the American Government was offered again to a select group of juniors who had met grade and civilian requirements.

Summer Activities Keep all Busy.

"So what did you do with your summer?" A common question many a times asked when school begins again.

As for sophomore Carl Ehlin he perfected his BMX freestyle techniques. This sport does involve frequent accidents however the results produced are worth the risks. To participate in this sport, you need a BMX bike that is designed specially for free-styling and a good sense of balance. Spinning at incredible speeds, the free-stylist begins a series of acrobatic feats that drive others to wonder why one would ever consider a sport like free-styling. Free-styling, like skate-boarding, originated in California but soon spread across the country with each rider adding his own touches.

Forest fires raged through California, Washington, and surrounding states destroying millions of acres of parkland.

While the midwest and western coast were being ravaged by the heat, Hurricane Gilbert rose out of the ocean taking over 300 lives with it and leaving billions of dollars of damage behind.

The Summer Olympics: A Spectacle of Wonder

When Seoul, South Korea was selected as the site for the 1988 Olympics, many were convinced that because of the riots that were taking place the games would not be held.

Instead and much to everyone's surprise and pleasure, the games opened in the chosen site with a dramatic hour dazzling display of a colorful spectacle combining ancient Korean traditions and modern-day technology.

The 16 days of competition netted American diver Greg Louganis 2 gold medals and Florence Joyner 3 gold and 1 silver along with the other American athletes who performed notably. Although our athletes were prepared, the U.S. teams were not able to equal their success on the 1984 and the USSR came out on top by placing first in almost every competition.

All of America was relieved and with this relief came the knowledge that we were once more on our way to finding an explanation for the universe.

Look Where George Is Now!

With the start of 1988, a new feeling was in the air. The era of Reaganomics was almost over and all were eagerly anticipating the election of a new leader, a leader who would support such programs as welfare and social security while taking a firm stand in cutting the deficit and who would end all racial strife and bring this great nation together and regain once again the proud reputation of its past.

The Democrats nominated Massachusetts Governor Michael Dukakis as their presidential candidate. With his ability to put reform programs in process and with his popular choice of a running mate, Senator Lloyd Bentsen, Dukakis led Bush, the Republican choice in the polls. However, he was not able to keep up such a lead and began to falter. George Bush, with his running mate, Indiana Senator Dan Quayle went on to show voters that the Republicans could still win. He beat Dukakis in the final election in November and managed to show the Democrats just where George should be in the White House.

George Bush has succeeded and all hope that he will fulfill his inaugural address promise and make this country into a kinder and gentler nation.

All can remember the anticipation of a nuclear holocaust during the early eighties. Citizens in both the U.S.S.R. and the U.S. hoped that the tension would cease and our leaders would reach an agreement. Though the cold war was harsh and the Iron Curtain impenetrable, both were able to reach an agreement in 1988. The treaty that was signed eliminated certain nuclear missiles which would be dangerous if a war were to happen. All hope that the efforts of these two leaders will not be wasted and that George Bush will be able to carry on Reagan's efforts.

Morton Sr. High School is known for many things and one is our ability to reap many awards. Judging from the number of events we have participated in, this has been a fantastic school year.

As with every year, some members of the football team were named All Conference. These students were Joe Brys, Joe Golec, Joel Hilbrich, Larry Homco, Rich Montes, Tom Oakley, Dave Snedden and Brian Young. Brian Prochaska received the Academic All State Football Award.

The Science Olympiad team repeated their previous successes with the numerous awards that they received at competition this year. The team placed third in the state overall among other schools. Dan Kelly won silver medal in the Designer Genes category. This year at the Annual Calculator Olympiad was yet another victory for Morton. Morton won all four traveling trophies and 17 of 24 ribbons. All who participated are to be praised for their efforts.

As for the Arts, Morton's Men's Quartet placed first in a competition in Indianapolis.

With almost full support, the annual Teacher of the Year was none other than Mrs. Lundgren.

In all, Morton has done well this year.

Although the fishing industries are badly off, the animals seem to have the worst situation since no one has an accurate account of how many had died. This ghastly predicament is also proclaiming higher gasoline prices.

The accident happened when a flood of 240,000 barrels of oil gushed from the Exxon Valden which had ran aground in the Prince William Sound in Alaska. Authorities later learned that the captain of the vessel was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Teams Place High

Many of the athletes here at Morton High School face problems which they must overcome in order to compete. Sometimes this deals with grades, or many times, it deals with self-discipline. Any athlete, no matter what the sport is, can tell you that if you lack self-discipline there is no reason to compete in sports. Many athletes strive to have the ultimate self-discipline. This is not always easy. Athletes must face and test their strength and self-discipline against stronger and better opponents. Then, athletes learn that without self-discipline they cannot overcome their opponents.

Athletes know that they must be in their top physical strength in order to compete and win. Many of the "team sports" individual players learn to trust their teammates and often learn from them.

Many athletes set high goals. These athletes know that in order for them to accomplish those goals they must overcome their problems. The ultimate goal of any athlete or team is to capture the gold and bring home a reward.

Among them for the defense were seniors Joe Brys, Dave Snedden and Rich Montes. The four All Conference offensive players were Seniors Larry Homco, Joel Hilbrich, Joe Golec, and Tom Oakley. The team came in second in Conference only to Hammond High. They also lost only one regular season game to Hammond High. When asked how he felt about how this year's team did, coach George Hall commented, "Considering we only lost 1 regular season game I feel that this year's team exceeded expectation and accomplished quite alot." When asked how he felt next year's team will do, Hall stated, "We approach each year as trying to improve upon last years accomplishments. Our players over the last four years have worked hard and have made the commitment to become better athletes." Coach Hall plans to continue coaching as long as its still fun and enjoyable.

Coach Hall feels that the only lost of the regular season came from conference champs Hammond High, twenty to seventeen. Hall also commented at on time in the season to the Hammond Times that he wishes he had few more players on his roster. "Last year Dave Snedden was a great defensive player for us. Now I have to play him both ways," he commented.

Senior Tony Adkins lettered three times during his four years of wrestling and won such awards as Most Outstanding Wrestler of the Conference Tourney. ## Team Takes second in Conference & Sectionals

The 1988-89 wrestling team ended the season with seventeen wins and two losses. The eighteen man team consisted of seven seniors; Tony Adkins (112), Jamie Blankman (130), Joel Hilbrich (Heavy Weight), Rick Montes (135), Brian Young (160), Guy Solis (189), and Kevin Wyant (152).

The team also consisted of two Juniors, eight sophomores and one freshman. If good enough for the varsity team a freshman is allowed to wrestle.

This year's team was a lot more experienced than last year's team and the pre-season weightlifting and the longer, harder practices helped a lot. The team took second in Conference and in Sectionals, fourth in Regionals, and ninth in Semi-State, besides placing either second or third in other tournaments. Although a lot of the team quit because of harder practices, the team had a great season.

Leading the team was Tony Adkins and Jamie Blankman as co-captain. Morton placed second at the Valpo invitational, fourth in the Merrillville Invitational, and third at the Lake Central Invitational. Tony Adkins, Jamie Blankman, Rick Montes and Brian Young qualified for Semi-State but only Tony Adkins and Jamie Blankman went on to State competition in Indianapolis on February 18th. Adkins and Blankman commented, "We had a pretty successful season. We had our ups and downs but what really counts is having a good time, and that is just what we did."

With Mortons Girls' Basketball

The 1988-89 girls' basketball team ended the season with an overall record of 8 wins and 12 losses. This year's team consisted of only two seniors, who were Kathy Stevens, and Kim Benich, three juniors Lynn Berta, Jill Campbell, and Sandy Jansky. There were also four sophomores, Daphne Homco, Amy Klepsch, Sue Rutkowski, and Tina Vasic. There were eight players who lettered. Their eight and twelve record was the best record Girls' Basketball has had in four years. Their 3 and 2 record was also the best they have had in four years. When asked how she felt this year's team did, coach Debbie Lueken said "The players played excellent and all their hard work paid off." She also stated, "I was very proud of them and I am proud to be their coach." The captains were the only seniors Kim Benich and Kathy Stevens. Kathy Stevens also was the team's top scorer, averaging 11 points per game and 16 points per game in the tournament. She scored a total 211 points throughout the entire season. The J.V. squad ended its season with an overall record of 3 wins and 16 losses. The young team consisted of 11 dedicated members, 5 sophomores and 6 freshmen. We also had three players who made the All-Conference team seniors Kathy Stevens and Kim Benich and sophomore Daphne Homco.

Morton Style

The 1987/88 Boy's Baseball team finished with an overall record of twenty four wins and only five losses including sectional tournaments. They tied for conference with Bishop Noll and they captured this years Andean Tournament. They had five All Conference players who were Juniors Scott Garvey, and Tom Oakley. Senior All Conference players were Chris Walsh, Tim Opinkier, and Jeff Kielbasa.

When asked how he felt about this years team season, Coach Greg Jancich stated "I think they did wonderful. This years team is the best year Morton baseball has ever had, and Morton would have another very good year next year but not as good as this year's team did.

When asked which games he felt were the best and the worst and why, he said, "The best game was against Bishop Noll where we came back after losing two games to them. To come back and win is great. The worst game was the sectional tournament against Highland because we beat them twice and losing to them in an important sectional match was just terrible."

When asked how much longer he planned to continue coaching or how much longer he would like to coach, Coach Jancich replied, "I would like to stay coaching or be a part of baseball until I am not possible or until I am not healthy enough to."

The team lost in the final game of the season to East Chicago Central in the sectionals 7-3. Next year's team will have ten returning let-termen which should provide good talent along with experience and leadership. The Governors were under first year coach Ted Walsh. "He was a good coach and organizer. The players and myself look forward to him coaching us next year", stated Kim Benich.

WITH MORTON TENNIS

The 1988 girls' Varsity tennis team ended with an overall record six wins and five losses. There were 22 girls trying out for the squad and only 15 girls were left at the end of the season. The boys' tennis team ended up with an overall record of 10 wins and 4 losses. They were first in Conference with a perfect record of 4 wins and no losses. In the Conference tournament at Harrison, they had 23 points which was good enough for first place. The Most Valuable Player was Steve Lopez. They also had Co-Most Improved Players, who were Dan Jen and Tom Anagnos. The Conference Champs were Number 2 singles Steve Lopez, Number 3 singles Jesse Gabrano, Number 1 doubles Dan Jen and Mike Ottman, Number 2 doubles Jeff Killion and Eric Gruener and we also had a runner-up for Number 1 singles who was Tom Anagnos. The All-Conference Team consisted of Tom Anagnos and Steve Lopez for singles. For doubles they were Dan Jen and Mike Ottman and Jeff Killion and Eric Gruener. They also had the Coach-of-the-Year Jerry Woodward. In Sectional play located at Munster High School, they lost 1 to 4 the only win from Number 1 Doubles Dan Jen and Mike Ottman. The boys had a decent year but the girls were not as fortunate.

Freshmen

Gaining experience the hard way

The 1988-89 Freshmen Boys' Basketball team ended their season with an overall record of four wins and thirteen losses. They also placed third in Conference Tournament and fifth in Conference. When asked how he thought the team did, Varsity coach Tom Taylor stated, "Their defense was not very good, our players still don't understand the concepts."

The 1988-89 Freshmen Boys' Football team ended their season a bit better than the basketball team did. They ended their season with an overall record of two wins, two losses and a tie. This year's team consisted of thirty-three dedicated members. The captains of this young team were Doug Hall and Don Kukural. When asked how he felt this year team, Hall quoted, "This year's team worked very well together and we worked together like one big happy family."

The 1988-89 freshmen girls' basketball team ended their season with a record of 0 wins and 9 losses.

Despite the fact of losing all their games, they felt good about the team. Dawn Seifert stated, "The team wasn't the best but at least we had fun."

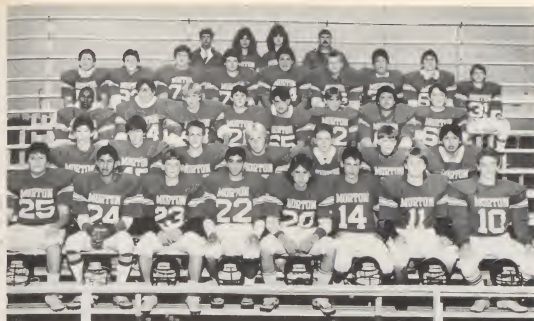

Angie Hedrick commented all the players were treated equally.

There were 14 girls who tried out and only 7 made it. The captain was Debbie Mycka and co-captain was Angie Hedrick.

Marjie Jansky concluded, "The highlight of the year was being out there playing for fun even when we lost."

WITH MORTON SWIMMING

The 1988-89 swim team ended their regular season with an overall record of 2 wins and 7 losses. There were six returning swimmers, among them were Seniors John Jackson, Terry Hendron and Briget Nelson Junior Toby Mielenz and Sophomores Alice Jackson and Shane Carter. The captains of this crew were Seniors John Jackson and Terry Hendron. One of the highlights of this season was John Jackson's winning Conference in the 100 yard freestyle. When asked how he felt about doing individually, senior Co-Captain Terry Hendron said that he felt he achieved his goal, but he missed qualifying for state by 4/100 of a second.

When asked how they did in Sectionals, Coach Pete Koperzinski said "We did really good time wise in sectionals. Four swimmers lettered this year. There were only two new swimmers this year, Tom Kelly and Phil Lentz, both of which lettered. They placed third in Conference and 6th in Sectionals and John Jackson was 100yd freestyle Conference champ. The number of swimmers which tried out for the squad at the beginning of the season was 22 the number at the end of the season's end was only nine. That shows how such a tough sport swimming is. It takes a lot of determination to stay on the team. It is definitely one of the hardest sports if not the hardest."

Boys win indoor, Girls take outdoor

The 1988 Boys' and Girls' Track teams had good seasons under coaches C. Sojka, and Marie Herring.

The Girls were locked in a three way tie for the Conference championship with Hammond High and Clark. In the Conference tourney the girls took first for the first time in their history. The Boys' team finished with 4 wins and 2 losses. They were 2-2 in Conference action with a third place finish in the tourney. The highlight of the season came when they won the I.L.S.C. Indoor Tourney for the first time. They also placed 2nd in the Lowell Relays. Junior Chris Ayala was undefeated in the Conference meets. Both the girls and the boys will be very strong next year. The girls only lost two Seniors, Laura Pfeiffer and Traci Kerr. The boys lost five Seniors to graduation, but will be returning eleven lettermen next year.

Special Needs Are Met

This year, the 1989 Special Olympics were cancelled because of the weather. Therefore, this section will be about what the kids do here at Morton and at Purdue.

There were not many teams this year because no positions for coaches were filled. There was one Special Olympics basketball team that included students from Morton, Hammond High and Clark. The goal was to get the Special Needs students involved in an intramural team and more involved with high school sports as team managers or at any level they can participate. The team won Sectionals and Regionals and went on to State Competition but they were defeated in their first game. A total of ten students from different schools were on the basketball team, which four of the ten were from Morton. Any student enrolled in the Special Needs classes are allowed to participate.

At the present time, the students do not use much of Morton's equipment but have participated in gym classes and have used the weight room. Besides this, the student spend one and a half hours at Purdue three times a week doing physical activities. The activities include cardiovascular free weights and super circuit. The programs are designed by the staff at the fitness center based on a student's physical needs.

Next year, Morton hopes to bring some of the teams back if the coaching positions can be filled.

Organizations

Organizations Select One's Path

Organizations provide the students here at Morton the opportunity to select many different routes to get involved in their high school years. These organizations, or sometimes called clubs, give students the opportunity for them to accept responsibilities. Sometimes they provide the students who may not be academically or physically inclined with a place which allows them to excel at something in which they can be proud of.

There are many different clubs and organizations from which one can choose. They range from honor societies to spirit boosters. Many of the activities that were held here were sponsored by the clubs. For instance, Prom and Senior banquet were put on by the Junior and Senior classes. Also, the newspaper and yearbook were entirely done by the organizations.

These clubs provided students a great way for them to express their hidden talents. We, the yearbook staff, have tried to express to the student body to get involved so they can have all the experience they need at an early age so they can be the very best at what they are.

Going Through Changes

In the beginning, one walked into the room. A desk here, a desk there, a few chairs, a few desks laying around and a small room with the typewriters. Then, something happened. With the help of generous people, desks, chairs, filing cabinets, shelves and trays appeared. This change was a new beginning for the Journalism department. Now, as one walks into the room, you can find a business office, a computer room, a photography department, and a desk for each staff member. "We were able to change things around and get more organized," said Brian Tucker, Production Coordinator and Chief Photographer for The Mortonite. Another change came to the Journalism department this past year. The Mortonite decided to purchase software to do their own typesetting in school. So, with the purchase of a few computers, and a Laser Writer printer, The Mortonite changed its ways. "With typesetting in the room, our computer technicians were able to experiment and help the design of the newspaper for the better," said Editor-in-Chief Dom Vernengo. The Mortonite Staff started off rough, but towards the middle of the year they had everything all working together. Vernengo also added, "This has been the best year for The Mortonite. They will try to change the communication problem that they have. Having students in the room during different hours hurts the staff. The next change needed for the staff is finding more interesting topics to write stories on. We have dedicated people, staying in during lunch, after school and working each day, even on days off."

FINISHING TOUCHES - Senior Dominic Vernengo, Editor-in-Chief of the Mortonite, works with Beckie Webb in finishing the newspaper before it is sent to the plant to get printed. Before its goes to get printed, and copies made, everything must be straight and put in the right places.

DOING THE JOB - Senior Brian Tucker sits at his computer doing his job on The Mortonite Staff. The Mortonite has changed a lot and now does all the typesetting in the computer room at school. stated Top Hat Editor-in-Chief Robert Perez. "We are looking for more people like this to make the book better." Making it better is what the staff is trying to do, and each year they are improving. On a national level, the yearbook has received a second place for the past 14 years, each year getting closer to the first mark. Last year's book, "Lets Party", was only 29 points away. Perez said "The staff has worked hard to finish this book; 188 pages is hard to do with a small staff. We want the students to get the book as early as possible." The Top Hat staff is also young and with the organization and added experience it will change for the better. The editors of both Top Hat and Mortonite agreed that the journalism program helps you. One can learn leadership abilities and also learn to work hard and meet certain deadlines. "This year has been exciting and full of changes for the better. This will all help me later in my life with all of the things that I have learned," ended Vernengo.

Being Honored

The National Honors Society, Quill and Scroll, and The Society of Women Scholars are all honorary groups here at Morton.

The Honors Society is made up of Juniors and Seniors who have a 4.4 grade point average or better and who show outstanding character, service, and leadership. Their main objective is to show service to the school and community.

The Quill and Scroll is an organization to honor Journalism students. The club had fundraisers such as the cheese and sausage sale and dances. Quill and Scroll gives student scholarships to Journalism students to attend certain camps and institutes. It also has an annual banquet at the end of each year to honor the new inductees, who are Journalism students, in the top third in their class and have contributed beyond ordinary class work to publications. The banquet also serves to give out the year's awards to the Mortonite and Top Hat Staffs in the work that they have done throughout the year.

The Society of Women Scholars is made up of girls in 10-12th grades with a 4.0 grade point average or better and who are invited to join. The organization was founded to promote post secondary education for Morton women scholars and is devoted to the goal of investigation and aid to female students for future decisions in life and education. They had guests to come in and talk to the Women Scholars about such topics as opportunities in nursing, the SAT tests, and making college and careers happen.

The U.S. Academic Decathlon is a national tournament of high schools. Over 20,000 students, about 2,000 schools in over 38 states competed in this tournament on January fourth. This was Morton's first year in the decathlon and they placed 18th. Candy Noojin was the only medal winner, receiving a bronze medal in the category of interview. They competed from 7:40 am until 6:40 pm in the ten categories.

The Indiana tournament For Academic Competitors was started by the state of Indiana. It has been around for several years but this was Morton's first year to participate. They met in room 135 during the year but they did not have enough time to prepare the team members. They had one major competition on March 9th at Valpo University where Morton ranked ninth overall. The Future Problem Solvers just wrapped up their second year of participation. They met four times this past year. They discussed three problems that could arise in our future: 'Youth and the Law in the Year 2009', 'Energy sources in the year 2025', and 'Nutrition in the year 2009'. They discussed a possible solution to them and sent them in for judging.

The Physics club was a club started by Mr. Damiano. The club was fairly new this year and they did not have many meetings. Hopefully the club will have more meetings next year.

The Ski Club was very busy this year showing their skills on skies at Timber Ridge in Gobles, Michigan and at Villa Olivia in Illinois. Each time they went on a trip they had as many as twelve participants of the club with them. Mr. Bill Trimmer, a substitute teacher, took the job as the club co-sponsor. The Ski Club had a very successful candy sale when they sold Sprees, M&M's and Carmello bars. The only difference in activities was the fact that there was not an overnight trip due to weather changes.

The Science Club, made up mostly of the Science Olympiad team, was a very active club this year. They competed in the Hammond Science Olympiad, and the State Science Olympiad in which they took fifth place. In state they completed in such categories as Chem. Lab (silver medal), Designer Genes (silver medal), Sounds of Music (bronze medal), and Topographic Maps (bronze medal).

The Adventurous Caving Club spent two days of fall in Bloomington, Indiana exploring the caves in the area, and three days in the beginning of May exploring Marengo Cave and cleaning out the Trap Door Cave. Their contribution to the caves is cleaning them out and trying to keep them as neat as they can. There were no fundraisers for this club; the students paid for everything themselves. They paid for the van rental, hotel fees, and gas. The average cost for a two night stay for about twenty people is about forty-five dollars a piece plus their money for their own food.

Spreadin' The Spirit

This year's Cheerleader and Pom Squads have really spread school spirit this year.

The cheerleaders started out by raising money for new uniforms, which consisted of fundraisers such as selling candy, calendars and having stand-outs.

The cheerleaders have been active in showing their school spirit. They have competed in contests, cheered at games and put together all of the Pep Rallies this year. They represented Morton in the Christmas Parade, they received 2nd Place in the Southlake Mall Competition, and ranked in the top 10 for nationals, both J.V. and Varsity squads. Gina Rivera received the Most Outstanding Senior in the USCA Camp and Kim Harney was in the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant in Indianapolis.

The Cheerleaders sponsor Mrs. Stephens said, "The strong points this year were that the squad promoted school spirit and became more competitive and their academics were higher."

This year's Pom Pom squad was also high in spirits as they had a successful year. The majority of the girls were dedicated and willing to work above and beyond to do good performances. The sponsor for the Poms, Mrs. Stavros, has helped greatly in the fundraisers as well as the girls in selling such things as tupperware, Easter goodies and Morton Governor pins.

Even though they had a few problems with trying to compete with jobs, the girls have improved greatly and are looking forward to next year to do even better.

The Club, started by Mr. Bacus, is an attempt to offer students a chance at leadership as well as at creativity. The students who started this club wanted to do something for Homecoming, but did not want the commitment that it took to do a float or a class project. These students wanted to take charge and do something different and rebellious. As a result of doing something different, everyone became the President of the Club to provide leadership for everyone, and also, Mr. Bacus suggested that they do something with the "Big Boy" that was given to him several years ago. Mrs. Lundgren started to help out The Club and she became a co-sponsor.

Besides the Homecoming float, the group of students also decorated the bulletin board by Mr. Bacus and Mrs. Lundgren's room. They changed the bulletin board for seasons and holidays.

Mrs. Lundgren summed up The Club in these words: "As I see it, the purpose of The Club is to give students a chance to use their talents to spread beauty, good will, and cheer around the school without having to belong to an organization with meetings on a regular basis and highly structural activities. The Club is for students who want to have good clean fun while doing nice things for the school."

The Club won many various awards this year, some of these include the best bulletin board at homecoming and also the best bulletin board at Halloween.

Sophomore Tim Elo added, "The Club is a group of talented people who specialize in their own area and work together as a team and when these people are brought together, something good is bound to happen."

A Band of Spirit

Many students here at Morton are able to play an instrument. They may take private lessons or they may try to start a garage band with some of their friends. Some of these students show their school spirit by joining the band.

"Band is a twelve months of the year program," Mr. Matusiak, the director is heard stating to the students, "Most sports are just a few months of the year."

All through the year, the band has some kind of obligations to participate in. During the football and basketball season, they play during half-time and they play the Star-Spangled Banner to start the games. During Christmas time and warm weather, various parades are held in the area. There's also the annual City-Wide Music Festival, Winter Festival and Spring Concert. During these three events, the band teams up with the choir to entertain friends and family.

Every year, one of the freshmen band members is asked to become the next years drum major. The two returning drum members are, sophomore, Jennifer Bevil and Junior Theresa Polito. The freshman drum major will be announced at the annual Banquet held on June 1. Wendi Van Dyke, senior, will be graduating, but will still, probably, drum major at the Fourth of July parades.

Even though the band is small in number, it is still big in school spirit, and that's what counts! They are willing to brave any weather just to show their school and community spirit.

Growing And Expanding Clubs

The Timmerettes are a group of girls that come together to keep time for the boys' swim team. The Timmerettes this year had a few dedicated members that showed up for the meets and learned how a swim meet is run. The Timmerettes are an important group, because if no one is there to time, there would be a forfeit.

The Weightlifting Club here at Morton is a program to build strength, endurance, positive attitudes about one's self and to condition athletes for any sport by increasing their size, strength, power, flexibility and speed. Weightlifting is open to anyone interested in weight conditioning whether one is an athlete or a non-athlete. During weightlifting, one will test to set goals and determine one's progress.

Home Economics is a club dedicated to expand home economic skills beyond the classroom, to have charity and social events each year. Home Ec. fundraisers this year consisted of making Christmas shaped cupcakes, (Christmas trees, Santas, etc.) and providing decorated cakes at a less expensive price than bakeries. They also worked on items to donate to kids in orphanages and hospitals.

The Health Club had twelve active members this past year that helped their sponsor, Mrs. Perz in all the activities they had. They sponsored the annual Blood Drive that was held in the library on May 12 all during the school day. They also donated their time at St. Margaret's Hospital to help with anything they were needed for and four of them even became candy strippers!

The singers Morton High School has come from Ensemble, Concert Choir and Girl's Chorus.

Ensemble is made up of experienced singers that sing for the community to learn movement principles with advanced musicianship and to gain poise in small group performances. This year's Ensemble group learned the singing and choreography well and performed around 20 times in the community and in Lake County for many diverse groups and age levels.

The Girls' Chorus had an excellent group. They had some strong, young voices, they were better music readers, and they showed lots of promise for years to come. This past year, they participated in the Christmas Concert, the Spring Concert and Commencement (Along with Concert Choir).

Concert Choir is the last group and is the advanced study and singing of many styles of choral music. Concert Choir had a good balance of sections this past year. While active this year, Concert Choir performed in the Christmas Concert, the Spring Concert, and they did their best at The Union Station Centennial Celebration where the Men's Quartet won a First Place at the state contest.

These three groups are a few of the most active non-athletic organizations in the whole school. These students put forth much effort to make their organization such a successful one. Hopefully, they will have as much cooperation in the students as well as the faculty and community.

Promoting Education And Spirit

The Student Association was very busy this past year as they sponsored many events and helped with various others. They had many of their members working in the Pepsi booths at the Culture Fest held in the fall and during Thanksgiving and Christmas and they collected food to put in baskets for the needy. They put on the annual Inaugural in the Cafeteria on November 19. The theme was "Puttin on the Ritz". They also helped out with the Homecoming parade and other activities involving Homecoming.

The Photo Club gives students the chance to broaden their perspectives and learn the various aspects of photography. Students learn about photo work such as rolling film, developing film, printing pictures and working with cameras. They had some very successful fundraisers in the past such as selling posters and chocolates, but they still have many keychains.

The main objective of the ICE/COE students is to promote cooperative office education and a city vocational cooperation. They met during fourth hour which was lunch for everyone else. Mr. Speelmon and Mr. Boyle also tried to help their students find jobs in the community that will help them in their future.

The Foreign Language Club is a club devoted to increasing student interest in studying a foreign language and learning about their cultures. They took fruit baskets and Christmas cards to nursing homes and they continued to raise money for their scholarship funds. They also established a tutoring program for those having problems in the foreign language departments. They raised almost $2000.00 on all of their fundraisers this past year.

IMPROVING THEMSELVES AND THE COMMUNITY

S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk) has grown much since it first began at Morton. They had a bake-sale and a car wash to raise money for their club. They tried to arrange an all-City Talent Show but it interfered with all the Proms. They had to give up their idea but they want to try it next year. They had a homecoming float this past year and hope to continue participating in the parades to come.

Operation Snowball is a drug awareness program run by Mr. Zelenke. This group has chapters at many schools including those that go beyond Hammond. They met on the first Wednesday of every month at the area Career Center in Hammond.

The Drama club meets during sixth hour in Mr. Safstrom's room. They discussed events such as community concerts and other events that they would have to set up stage and lights for. Senior Brenda Stork commented, "Everyone in the club puts forth much effort that is need."

Speech and Debate is offered to all students in the school. Mr. Safstrom decides whether to put you on the team of not by your previous work. Speech and Debate involves work outside of the classroom either in groups or individually. The team attended tournaments where they faced their competitors for organized argumentation.

Academics

Academics Are A Must

The Academics Section is filled with bright-eyed students learning everything from Algebra to Zoology. Some students are able to enjoy their classes by knowing they are going to learn something. These students are able to be at the very top of their classes. Others have not found anything exciting in any one of their classes, so naturally they do not want to attend these classes. Our advice to you is to attend these classes, even if you think they are boring, because the purpose of High School is to offer students a general knowledge of many different fields.

At this point in your life you probably are beginning to set goals. While you are setting these goals, try to realize that each of these goals will require certain skills and knowledge. Therefore, it is to your advantage to obtain knowledge in a wide variety of fields.

Even though some subjects are not always exciting, you must go. It is not like a club or an organization, where if you don't want to go you don't have to. If you choose to sleep or ditch a class we wish you the best of luck in finding a job with the following qualifications, the ability to sleep and the ability to avoid responsibility.

CAREER CENTER

Headstart for Job Training

In recent years, the Career Center has been known as a haven for slow people to go so they would have a chance to graduate. This is completely false. The Career Center is usually a place for Juniors and Seniors to go if they have all of their required classes out of the way and they want to enter a field of interest which is taught at the Hammond Area Career Center. Several sophomores also attend so they will be able to take a variety of classes held there.

Classes at the Career Center are reasonably priced. For each semester you are enrolled, you must pay eighteen dollars to earn three credits. The money is used to supply the classes with any supplies they need for their labs. Many of the classes help to earn their grades by producing or fixing appliances for the public. Since the Career Center is a non-profit organization, these services only cost the amount of money for parts or ingredients.

The classes can be used as an option instead of going to college or going to a vocational school after high school. People who took classes at the Career Center are able to get jobs making as much money as people who go to college. The Career Center provides practical hard nose experience and the book knowledge needed to get jobs.

The classes held at the Career Center train people for needed jobs. Bakers, beauticians, mechanics, printers, and computer technicians are all needed now. These classes also give people knowledge which can open doors for them if they just keep the knowledge they have as an extra on the side hobby. Think of all the money which can be saved by fixing your car or by sewing your own clothes.

If your schedule permits it, try to take a class at the Career Center for a semester. It will teach you skills you value for your life.

Math is a Never-Ending Process

I UNDERSTAND THIS STUFF. solve a problem with the skills she learned in the Algebra class.

Ever since we began to talk we had to learn math. Our parents taught us to count up to ten. Before anyone can exit kindergarten you have to know how to count to 100. By the end of first grade, kids already know how to add and subtract. As soon as you start third grade, you begin multiplication. Then comes division in fourth and fifth grade. These things stay with you for the rest of your life.

Once you get into high school you realize how easy it was back then and how it is now with classes like geometry, trigonometry, and calculus. Everyone wonders "Why do I have to learn this. I'm never going to need it?" But you do need math. Without math you couldn't accomplish everyday chores like keeping track of how much money you spent last week at Woodmar.

Someday we'll need math skills to figure out our taxes. We're getting older and we will soon be out of school. Our parents have always been there for us, but someday we'll be out on our own. No matter what happens we'll always need the math skills we've learned through the years.

The next time you feel like giving up, stop and think how math is going to effect you in the future. Maybe then you'll realize how important it is to study math, and try harder to get better grades. The world is depending on you to keep up good math skills.

Math is constantly changing. We have to know more now then our parents did when they were in school. It's important for us to keep up with new skills and ways of doing math. Things aren't going to get any easier, but with a lot of confidence and determination we can help make the future in math better.

LANGUAGE ART

Rest in Peace, Class of 1974

Ever since we started first grade, we have been bombarded with English. By the time we get into high school, we're sick of grammar. Luckily, our high school English doesn't have to be as boring as our "grammar" school classes.

The only time you will probably have grammar lessons is during your first year of high school. After that, most teachers just assume you know what you're doing. Even first year grammar is mixed with Mythology to soften the blow.

During the second and third years, the classes deal with other areas of Language Arts, public speaking and literature.

These first three years are required to graduate, but you do need at least two more credits to graduate. There are many classes to choose from. You could just continue with English 7 and 8, or you could try to be creative. If you have a flare for dramatics, try out to Drama. If you like to write, yearbook or newspaper could use you. Like to get your point across? Why not go for Speech and Debate?

No matter what class you decide on, you'll be able to live with the teacher. No teacher would be able to wipe out an entire class. Well, almost any teacher.

The only students to die in school were from Morton. In fact, the teacher is still with us today. She is Mrs. Lundgren. In 1974, Mrs. Lundgren assigned a World Literature of hers to read a play over the weekend. They all warned her it would kill them if they tried; however she would not listen to them.

On the Monday morning it was due, Mrs. Lundgren went to her classroom, as usual, only to find a large sign on the door with tombstones drawn on it for all of the deceased students who died in the line of duty.

Mrs. Lundgren waited around, thinking it was some kind of joke, but only three students survived the epidemic and showed up for class. Mrs. Lundgren and the survivors set about putting the souls of the deceased to rest. The room was closed off and the lights dimmed. When one student, who acted as minister, had prayed that his classmates would have a wonderful "ever after", they opened the door, and turned on the lights.

The dead students suddenly were returned to the living, probably to finish high school. The dead students wanted a memorial made so Mrs. Lundgren would never forget what happened. She had a large granite stone placed in her room with an inscription placed on a plaque. (See facing page.)

To this day, Mrs. Lundgren has no idea where the students' empty bodies were during their death.

Did you ever wonder what people were doing when they pleaded the fifth amendment on L.A. Law? The answer to this question and many others can be found in some of the classes.

World Civilization. U.S. History. Government. Economics. These are all classes offered here at Morton which will earn students credits in Social Studies.

Social studies covers a broad spectrum of knowledge around us. It covers the history of what happened in the year two million B.C. to what's happening now in the Senate today. Some knowledge around us is necessary for survival.

Many seniors are now old enough to vote. The right to vote for our representatives was given to men in the constitution and women were given the right in the 18th Amendment. This taught to us when we take Government our senior year.

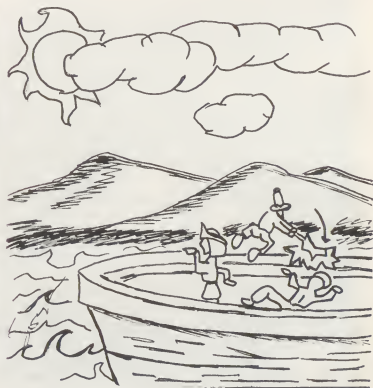

There are two classes required; U.S. History, which is taken during the junior year, and Government, taken during the senior year. After passing these two classes, you need only one more credit of Social Studies to graduate. This can be either Psychology, Sociology or Economics. Many sophomores choose to take World Geography as elective courses.

Even though there are many useful facts we learn in these classes, there are several things we probably will never have to know again. We would probably never have to recall who won every single battle of the Civil War and where it was fought. Even though you might get an "A", it is important to understand the importance of the battles, or even more importantly, the war itself. History and all of the Social Studies classes are not just a bunch of facts to memorize. They are fun and exciting!

Wars and assassinations, a major part of the history of our country, are exciting to read about. Many of your ancestors were around when these things took place. Even though they were gruesome when it happened, it is exciting to read about.

Social Studies is not the easiest subject to study. Basket weaving would be a lot easier. Life wasn't, after all, meant to be easy. It was supposed to be a challenge.

Advances Through the Years

Did you ever stop to think about how the world would be if Thomas Edison never invented the light bulb? What if Alexander Graham Bell never thought of a Telephone? I can tell you this much, life would be really dull.

Thanks to inventions like these, we are now one of the most technologically advanced nations in the world. Everyday, people work on developing more discoveries, such as Benjamin Franklin's discoveries of electricity, or trying to make life easier by new inventions. In today's society, many are working on a cure for AIDS, Acquired Immunity Deficiency Syndrome, or for cancer. Others are working on computers to solve problems in transportation or pollution.

These scientists all must have started somewhere and the most likely place for them to have become interested in science is high school. The classes offered at Morton are designed to train a student in whatever field they plan on going into in college. Physiology, Zoology and Animal Behavior are all good courses for someone interested in someday working on animals. If you plan on becoming a doctor, you might want to take Physiology and Physics are classes if you are interested in working in a laboratory and learning the laws of science.

Biology is the one required course to take in Morton. You need, after passing this, one year of a physical science, such as Physics, Physical Science or Chemistry.

After your required classes are out of the way, you might want to quit taking sciences and instead work on other subjects or you might want to take science all four years so you will be able to know what science you like by the time you get to college, if you plan on going.

Science is all around us. We wouldn't be where we are today without scientific breakthroughs. What happens today will help to decide what happens, tomorrow, next year or even twenty years from now. Thanks to one idea, we might be flying to Mars in family spaceships for vacations instead of going to Disneyland.

TAKE A LETTER. Junior Mike Latimer practices his typing skills in his elective Keyboarding class.

Money is the root of all evil. We all have heard that saying. Money is also on everyone's mind and is necessary to live.

Everyone enjoys the thought of having loads of money one day. Couldn't you spend hours imagining what you would do if you were one of the lucky lottery winners?

Unfortunately, these dreams are just that, dreams, for most of us. Most people have to be more practical if they want to have money. High school students are no exception. When you're out of school, it would be much easier to balance a job into your schedule. When you are in school, sometimes life is too hectic to try to fit a job in with school and a social life.

Some of the students are able to do this without their grades slipping. Many jobs are offered to students at local businesses, such as the fast food restaurants and drug stores.

There is another option for seniors. To help earn money for college, Mr. Boyle and Mr. Speedman sponsor two groups for students to get a foot in the working world. COE, ICE, or Interdisciplinary Cooperation Education and COE, or Cooperative Office Education, meets during lunch and then students go to their jobs in the afternoons.

To be qualified for either of these programs, several of the business classes must be taken. Accounting, Keyboarding, Typing, Shorthand or Introduction to Business are Courses which would be a good idea to take.

Even if you aren't going to be in ICE or COE, it is a good idea to take some of these courses. Shorthand is a more efficient way of taking notes in your classes. Many teachers or businesses are impressed when you show them your typing skills whether you are typing a report or your resumé.

The classes also have another advantage. Later on, after you are out of high school, these classes can give you the skills needed to become a secretary, a bookkeeper or even a business executive. These classes can help to shape your life.

Equal Rights for Men and Women

For most of us, gym is a pain, especially for girls. Everyone likes to swim, but not in school. Fortunately, it is only required for one year.

But for those of us who like gym, there are extra classes you can take to stay in top shape. For girls, they now have girl's recreation and aerobics while boys have conditioning, boy's recreation and weight lifting. These classes are to help kids stay in shape.

It is important to take care of our body also, not just our brain. Most people are in a sport, but those who are not should stay in some sort of gym class to help keep their body from getting out of shape. Not everyone can be captain of the football team, but everyone can exercise. That is why it is so important.

Actually, when you stop and think about it, gym isn't so bad. There are a lot of different types of sports to play. Plus, it is a break from studying so much. Most classes basically do the same things over again, but not in gym. The variety can range from strenuous aerobics to volleyball or badminton.

It's nice to have a fun class, one you can look forward to, one where you can leave all your problems behind. One where you can relax and be yourself. That's where gym comes in.

Gym is not a punishment. It is there for us. It is a time for boys and girls to be equal. It is a time to let out all of your competitiveness, drive, and motivation. It's a time to be proud of yourself.

Don't just think only the "jocks" can take advanced gym classes. Even if you're not the most athletic person in the world gym is still for you. Not only is it a time to be equal, but it's a time to be 1. It is time to be better than someone else.

Finally the time has come that everyone is the same. Even if it's only in a gym class.

BRAIN DEAD - Junior Danny Bukowski rests his head as he tries to absorb the information he learned in Herr Meister's German Class.

Wouldn't it be exciting to one day visit a far off country in Europe which speaks a foreign language and to actually understand everything which is being said? Thanks to the foreign language department, every student is offered the opportunity to study a foreign language here at Morton.

The three foreign languages which are taught are German, Spanish and French. Herr Meister and Mrs. Rotenburg teach German. Ms. Burr and Mrs. Seric teach Spanish while Mr. Bolinger teaches French by himself.

Many students take four years of a foreign language as an option instead of taking a fourth year of English, after taking the three required years. Others take two years of a foreign language because many colleges required two years of a foreign language in high school.

In the classes, students also receive a background of the culture, of the land which speaks the language. During the year in German, the students are taken to German Town in Chicago to enjoy a day learning about ordering German food and reading the magazines.

Several students, when they are capable enough to live in another country, can join a foreign exchange program. This year we have a student from Norway, Espen Halvorsen. The students live with a host family in that country for a school year.

The classes themselves can also be fun. During the holidays, students celebrate the holidays the traditional way of the countries. Oktoberfest is celebrated by Herr Meister's German classes. The students all chip in bringing stuff in from German chocolate cake to napkins to good old American pop. While the students all stuff themselves they try to sing German songs.

The classes are not always fun and games. You do learn the language. Some students have so much fun they take two languages all four years. Why not try a foreign language and see if you have fun in it? If you don't, you have two other languages to try.

Life Made Easier to Live In

Some people take Industrial Arts without realizing it. Industrial Arts is consisted of electronic, woods, metals, and mechanical drawing. These classes are essential for everyday life.

Industrial Arts started way back during Adam and Eve's time. It started when they built their first house. It wasn't much, but that's still a beginning to Industrial Arts.

Since Adam and Eve's day, Industrial Arts has come a long way. We've gone from grass houses to giant skyscrapers, from a "square" wheel to a car. Over the years, Industrial Arts has grown at a rapid pace. More and more people are becoming interested in Industrial Arts. There are more people today who are interested in helping it grow even more than before.

These days, there are so many new things to make and new interesting things to design. Industrial Arts helps people let their imagination go to the farthest point. It lets you relax and let your talents do the work.

Computers are becoming a very important asset in our lives today. Industrial Arts can help teach you to fix or work on computers. There's a lot you can do if you go into electronics, especially when it comes to the people's best friend, the computer.

Before our grandparents time they didn't have some of the luxuries that we have today. For example, what would you do without your microwave? How about your toaster? With Industrial Arts we've learned to make things so that life is easier.

In the future, let's hope we can construct better buildings, and design better household tools to help us. Let's push our imagination to the highest and make sure we keep Industrial Arts growing.

Cooking. Cleaning. Until just recently, these things were considered woman's work. Now as the 90's approach, it is considered to be socially acceptable for a woman to earn the money in the family and the man to raise the children.

Home Economics is all around us and everyone has something to do with it now and then. "Make-up, dressing for success, hairstyles - they are all different parts of Home Ec," stated Mrs. Mudra. "It doesn't just relate to cooking but it is Home Ec."

Home economics are strictly elective courses, but if you are able to fit the classes into your schedule, they are a must for everyone. There is always at least one aspect of Home Economics which can suit every person.

If you're planning on having a family someday, Child Development will let you know what you can expect from the children up to the age of six. Once a semester, the students go to Woodmar Child Development Center. There the students must be able to entertain the children for a while. This class also lets the students become friends with the toddlers.

In the Foods 1 and 2 class, the students learn to cook all kinds of foods and meals. Several times during the year, there are "guest meals" where guests are invited to sample the delicious food created. Each week the class cooks something different. However, they do not make anything too difficult, because they aren't professionals yet.

In the Clothing class which Mrs. Mudra teaches, the students learn all of the basics, such as threading a needle and tying a knot, to making clothes which can be as well made as the ones bought in stores.

Foundation For the Future

When most people think of fine arts, they think of paintings, sculptures or music. Here at Morton, students can take classes to learn about these subjects along with other areas of the "arts".

These classes can help you later on in life by giving you skills you can fall back on. Think of how many musicians there are in the world. No matter how many there are in the world, there is always room for another artist's style to be hung in a museum for all to admire.

Everyone is different from everyone else. Some people show their differences off with their hair style or their clothes. Others choose to make a piece of art that will be admired by people everywhere. Or maybe they will choose to write a beautiful passage of music that causes everyone to shed tears when they hear it.

That's where these classes can help. Instead of starting from scratch when you go to college, you can get the background information, so you might be able to take the subjects of art that interest you instead of having to take classes like "Introduction to Art."

Even if you are not going to college, or furthering your education in any other type of school, these classes can still help you by teaching you skills you can rely on for the rest of your life.

These classes can help you for the rest of your life by helping you to get jobs, or make family events happier, with quality pictures and homemade gifts for the rest of your life.

In the music section of the Fine Arts, traveling is necessary to pass the class. In choir, you may get to go to such places as Union Station in Indianapolis to perform for an audience. In the band, you might get to go to parades and play at the boy's home football and basketball games.

In Photography, you make a camera for part of your grade. In art, you paint, sculpt or draw unique pieces of art for your grade; however there is no book-work usually involved.

These classes may not sound to exciting at all, and they are not required to graduate, but most just take the classes because they can be a lot of fun.

The chief reason for going to school is to learn the fundamentals on order to survive in the real world after we graduate.

Sports or clubs are just an added bonus we have for attending. Sometimes, students aren't able to do as well as they could in their classes because of such problems like they don't have enough time to study, they just don't have the understanding, they aren't interested or because of drug or alcohol problems.

Thirty percent of all learning disabilities are related to substance abuse. Not all of the symptoms affect your performance in school; however, in the long run, it will effect everything about you. You will have memory loss, a decrease in motor functions and not react as quickly as you could. It can cause severe brain damage and make you into a vegetable on life support.

Substance abuse has been noticed by a teacher here at Morton, Mr. Dennis Zelenke. He is a Remedial Reading teacher in the mornings and during the afternoon he is the Substance Abuse Coordinator for the School City of Hammond. Twice a year he organizes Snowball weekends were students from Hammond and other close by cities attend. Indiana Operation Snowball, as it is formally known, was started in Illinois and came to Indiana, thanks to Mr. Zelenke.

Operation Snowball is a support group for students, it is not a re-hab center. The Students in it are all drug-free. Once a month, on the first Wednesday, meetings are held for everyone involved in Snowball or Snowflake, a group to keep middle school kids off of drugs, to meet and share ideas of how to spread Snowball.

Joining Snowball is not a guaranteed way of raising your grades, you have to work at it like anything else. Snowball is a way of staying drug-free so it'll be easier to improve your grades.

ALBUM

One Step Closer

Morton High School has a wide variety of faces that compile this section called the Album Section. This section, along with the Advertising Section, provides the main income needed for the publication of the Top Hat Yearbook. This Particular section accounts for 20 percent of the publishing cost.

As a staff, we feel that when a person that is an alumni of this school wants to recapture memories of his old fellow classmates, he will only have to open to this section to find the face of his friends.

Every student is aware that a day completed is a step closer to that final day of school called graduation. The juniors and seniors are the two classes that are the most concerned of that upcoming day when childhood ends and adulthood begins. Every student realizes that they must use these final years to set future goals and to fulfill their expectations. Every student is aware that they must, at any cost, try to "Top That" of their fellow classmates and earn a high ranking class standard.

Seniors: At The Top

The Class of 1989 has filled their four years with many fundraisers, a few awards, and many, many memories, some sad and some good. The class won the spirit stick both their Junior and Senior year, and they won first with both their junior Homecoming float and bulletin board. The class sponsors, Mr. Kocal and Mrs. Turk, were very happy with the class. They felt the class was very strong and bound together.

The class is very thankful to their sponsors and wish Mrs. Turk good luck. Her absence second semester was noticed.

The death of a well-loved classmate saddened us all but the sadness can be overcome by all the happy memories of John. He will be missed and remembered by all.

Espen Haovorsem comes to Morton

Espen Haovorsem came to Morton this past year as a foreign exchange student from Norway. He came to the states a few days before fall classes started. Espen was placed in the Senior class, but he did have some Junior classes. In addition to taking English, which to him is a foreign language, Espen also takes German.

Espen stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers of Hessville. They are the couple who hosted last years exchange student, Silke.

Espen did get the chance to meet Silke when she came to visit for a month.

Espen made a lot of friends during his stay here and he also visited many places.

Even though Espen comes from a foreign country, he is a typical teen-ager with normal teen-age ideas!

Juniors: On Their Way Up !

The class of 1990 has worked really hard to raise money for their Prom that they held on May 19, 1989 at the House of Lynwood in Illinois. They held many car washes over summer vacations, had candy sales during the school year, and held candy-gram sales during Halloween and Christmas. Also, this past year they took over the carnation sale held during Valentine's week, formerly sponsored by the Booster Club. Besides raising money, they also put a lot of time and hard work into their Prom.

Homecoming was also a very good time for the Class of '90. They took first place in the Homecoming parade, beating their rivals, the seniors! They had an abundant amount of help from all the students and a lot of the parents. They would like to send their appreciation to all the parents that helped.

Even though their sponsor, Mrs. Copp, had to transfer to another school during the year, she still helped Mrs. Lemon with all the sponsors responsibilities. The class will miss her greatly next year!

"What are you looking forward to most coming up on your Senior year?"

"I am looking forward to living the life of a Senior. I want to play my best in soccer so that our soccer team will win the state cup and look for a scholarship to go to college. I am looking forward to being the oldest computer technician in the publications department. I am also looking forward to working on the class council on the Senior banquet and Graduation."

Ken Benich

"I am looking forward to Homecoming to see who will make it for Homecoming court."

Dawn Decker

"I am looking forward to initiating all the little Freshmen that have a smart comment."

Chris Flesher

"I want to learn more about algebra and a lot more about science and biology."

Allen Fliter

"I am looking forward to my last year of basketball at Morton and also to my graduation."

Ron Gasior

"I am looking forward to having the best year ever in school, prom especially. Being involved in Poms and being with David and all my friends is going to be a lot of fun!"

Kim Hilty

"I am looking forward to having the privilege of being able to sit on the Senior benches, and just being a Senior and having all the glory that comes with it."

Traci Ingala

"I am looking forward to Senior pictures because I dislike the black and white picture. I haven't taken any pictures since Freshmen year for that reason."

DeeDee Lewis

"I am looking forward to turning 18!"

Todd O'Day

"I am looking forward to winning the Conference in Tennis."

Mike Ottman

"It's a tradition to look forward to being a Senior. Why? Because Seniors sit on the Senior benches, are the most noticed at pep rallies, and all the underclassmen wish they were in their shoes!"

Veronica Rodriguez

"I am looking forward to being able to vote!"

Jeff Sargent

"I am looking forward to registering into the R.O.T.C., being able to vote, and most of all my long awaited chance to sit on the Senior benches."

Jason Sovola

"To make it the best year ever and to have a great amount of fun for the Senior class."

Penny Whitaker

Sophomores Another Step Up!

The class of 1991 started in on their fund raising projects to be able to have a very successful 1990 Prom. They have already booked the Saint George Greek Hall in Schereville for it. The students have sold posters, candy, and numerous other fundraisers to prepare their funds for the major upcoming expenses they are going to have in their next two years.

They had a successful turnout at Homecoming while preparing their float that won second place in the parade. There was a large number of students that turned out at Homecoming and the students were very involved in class events, but Class President Tina Vasic would like more people to come out and help in the fundraisers so they will have enough money in their account to do what they want for the class of 1991!

The class has been preparing for all their events during their years and they have finally made it to their next step up . . . next year they are going to be considered upper-classmen!

"What would you do for $1,000?"

"I would lock all the teachers out of the building and run the school my way!"

Tony Elizondo

"I'd come to school without taking a shower or shaving my legs. I'd also pick gum off the ground and eat it."

Cathy Flahardy

"I would go into a big theatre in Chicago and sit in the crowd and all of the sudden run up onto the stage, stand on my head and sing 'Old McDonald'!"

Angela Gonzalez

"I would do everything they do in those Klondike Bar commercials."

Carrie Kuchcik

"I'd babysit for the brattiest kid you could find for whole weekend!"

Jeneane Paul

"I would shovel the snow in the school parking lot by hand during lunch!"

Mike Mireles

"If I had to do something like eat toilet paper or hit someone, I would do it!"

Amanda Villegas

"I would tie myself to the top of the Empire State Building and clean all the windows."

Stacy Wade

"I would force myself to read for 48 hours straight without stopping and let my English teacher select the book!"

Heather Weiland

"I would listen to George Michael and The Escape Club and all the other music that I hate. Or, I would be a prep for an hour, but I would probably ask for more money."

Ibrahim Yoldash

"I'd do anybody's dirty laundry!"

Cathy Zarembo

Freshmen Starting The Climb

The class of 1992 started off their high school career very well. The election of their officers was done in a very different way. The freshmen attendants and the runners-up were selected to lead their class as the officers.

The class is very involved in activities. For Homecoming there was a big turnout of students and parents to make the float. Although the bottom half was purchased, the students put hard work into the top half. An unfortunate occurrence took place during the parade on their float. The tire blew on the flatbed and the majority of the students had to walk the rest of the way.

They sprang into fundraisers to start saving as much money as possible. The class hopes to have enough money to possibly have a class trip when the time comes! They do not know where they want to go or when they want to go, but they do know it is a project that they want to tackle in their up coming years!

"What's the most embarrassing thing that happened to you this year?"

"One day, walking back from a class, I was busy talking to a guy and I really wasn't paying attention. We were walking past the cafeteria and I ran right into one of the poles!"

Heather Acheson

"The first day of the second semester I was in a classroom that I thought was mine, but fifteen minutes later the teacher took roll and didn't call my name. I went up to the teacher's desk to tell him that he didn't call my name and then I realized that I was in the wrong class room!"

Cathy Calabrese

"After the football kick-off against Clark I was running off the field and I tripped on it."

Ricky Deem

"The tire on the Freshmen float blew and the majority of the students had to walk the rest of the parade."

Kim Fruit

"I put my lock on the wrong way and I had to do my combination upside down."

Melanie Hluska

"My sister dyed her hair black and put a stupid earring in her nose. She goes around with five inch jet black spiked hair and dressed like a weirdo!"

Jim Jelenski

"Someone tripped me and I fell in front of the senior benches. All the seniors laughed at me!"

Sean Martinez

"I was doing my push-ups in front of a bunch of seniors and one of them told me that my bookbag accidentally blew on the top of the roof."

James Richards

"At our J.V. basketball game at Hanover Central, I had the ball and I started to run the wrong way, towards the opponents' basket!"

Willie Robertson

"After taking my books out of my locker, I accidentally took my lock upstairs to my next class!"

James Smith

"I fell down the stairs while a group of upperclassmen stood behind me laughing."

Zelenke Committed To Teens

Dennis Zelenke was named to his position of Substance Abuse Coordinator in the summer of 1987. His morning assignment is three hours of remedial reading instruction here at Morton High School and then he leaves in the afternoon to fill his position as Substance Abuse Coordinator. As Coordinator, he does a various number of tasks such as coordinating public and parochial prevention programs, grant writing, directorship of Operation Snowball, staff inservicing, community workshops, and community presentations.

Last year, Mr. Zelenke was given a stipend approved by Hammond's Drug Task Force for services "above and beyond." He directs the Hammond Snowball and the Hammond's Operation Snowflake.

Mr. Zelenke feels very lucky to be of assistance to many fine Hammond students, teachers, parents, and administrators. He stated that he looks forward to someday being Hammond's full time Student Assistance Director.

Advertising

A Way To Get Ahead

The Advertising section displays many local companies that get a head start on their competition by advertising in this book. The money received from this section accounts for approximately twenty-six percent of the publishing cost for this yearbook. This section along with yearbook sales and underclass picture packet sales are the chief sources of income for the book.

Along with the local companies that advertise in this section, also school groups advertise in this section. They do this so that they can publicize their members and attract more members.

Patron ads also are found in this section. These ads are the names of special people that have contributed to this book. Their contribution was five dollars each that was used mainly for the special designs that cost extra money to reproduce in the book.

The Staff greatly appreciates all the companies, school groups, and patrons that have made the publishing of this book possible.

Closing

FINALLY THROUGH - Students burst out of the school just seconds after the bell has rung.

As this school year comes to a close, students everywhere are feeling differently. The freshmen are relieved they will not be at the bottom of the barrel anymore - no more initiation or jokes at their expense.

The sophomores hold back groans as they realize they still have two more years to go and one more before they are seniors. The juniors are counting the days before they become the head of the school after the seniors are gone.

Once the second semester began, seniors began to feel disappointed knowing they would not be in high school much longer. In just a few short months, their lives would change drastically.

Some of the students will go on to college, but there are others who will enter the working world where they must be mature and responsible. So senior year is the time to say good-bye to childhood and hello to being an adult.

A yearbook is a way to preserve the memories accumulated during one year. Years later you can't borrow a friend's when you want to see those cute guys in your class or remember some of your teachers' names.

We wanted to make the yearbook exciting. We didn't want it just to be a book of pictures. We didn't want it just to be different. After all, isn't it more exciting to be unusual? That's why we chose the theme Top That. Hopefully, students this year have done something unusual. Luckily, there have been quite a few interesting moments which were able to be trapped forever on the pages of this yearbook.

Colophon

The 36th. volume of the Top Hat Yearbook of Morton Senior High School was edited by Robert Perez. It Contains 88, 8 1/2 x 11 inch pages, broken down into six major sections. There were 550 copies of the book published by Walsworth Publishing Company located in Marcelline, Missouri. The pages were printed on 80 pound shadow paper that was smith sewn and bounded with a rounded back binding. The cover was done in a 4 color silkscreen, customized designed in a linen material. The endsheets were done in 30% black screen with 100% cherry red artwork. The color portrait photographs were taken by Bodie Photography, in Highland, Indiana. Much of the black and white processing was done by the Top Hat Photography Staff. The body copy was done in 8-12 point type, folio tabs in 8 and 10 point type, photo credits in 6 point type, captions in 8-10 point type, and headlines ranging from 18-72 point type. The Opening and Closing sections used Lydian type, the Student Life section used Century Type, the Faculty section used Souvenir type, the Academic section used Bookman type, Organization section used Tiffany type, and Sports and Underclass sections used Avant Garde type.

The year has finally come to an end. The publication of this yearbook was one that took much effort from young and inexperienced staff. First, I would like to thank my staff. I feel that many problems had arisen throughout the year, but the ones that really cared pulled this book out. I would like to thank Bob Henning and Carmen Thomas from Walsworth Publishing Company. They were understanding and helped out in every way possible. Jim Bis, our professional photographer from Bodie Studio was also very understanding of the staff and helped us to the best of his ability. Also, I would like to thank our School Administrators for putting up with the many problems that came up this year. Also, one very special math teacher needs to be recognized. Miss Draskovich helped us by making donations that were very much appreciated to the publication staffs. Last, but not least, Mrs. Gillard, our Advisor. She was there to help with anything that arose. She always gave good advice and never turned her back on us.

I just finally would like to thank the student body for participating actively throughout the year.

Thank You

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office for National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 6.5 million by 2011, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 4.5 million (Office for National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the health and social care of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to improve the health and social care of older people; (2) to ensure that older people are able to live independently in their own homes; (3) to ensure that older people are able to participate in community life; and (4) to ensure that older people are able to access the services they need.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995. The public sector has also become an important employer of women, with 50% of the public sector workforce being female in 1995.

There are a number of reasons why the public sector has become an important employer of women. One reason is that the public sector has a high proportion of female employees in the lower-paid, routine jobs that are often the most difficult to fill. Another reason is that the public sector has a high proportion of female employees in the higher-paid, professional jobs that are often the most difficult to fill. A third reason is that the public sector has a high proportion of female employees in the middle-paid, clerical jobs that are often the most difficult to fill.

The public sector has also become an important employer of women because it provides a number of benefits that are attractive to women. These benefits include a high level of job security, a high level of pay, and a high level of social security. The public sector also provides a number of other benefits that are attractive to women, such as flexible working hours and a high level of training and development.
